

just like being there!

Mt. Fuji, the highest mountain in Japan is the archetype of the stratovolcano. The beauty of Mt Fuji's snowcapped cone rising majestically above a lush green plain has inspired Japanese poets and painters throughout the centuries.

This stunning STM model with full color, hi-resolution satellite imagery puts you in the scene.

Solid Terrain Models tell the whole story like nothing else, giving an immediate grasp of the area in a way that can be seen, touched and experienced directly.
